Dear friend,

On behalf of our team, I'd like to thank you for your donation.

Contributions like yours make a difference to us and our partners: the indigenous peoples on the ground in Central and South America who are fighting to protect the rainforests they call home. The future of these forests determines the future for us all.

Not only are these rainforests the source of tremendous biodiversity; they also absorb vast amounts of carbon dioxide, produce oxygen, and generate fresh water. Protecting forests, and the people who care for them best, is the clearest course of action we can take in order to ensure this ecosystem stays vital and thriving.

The stakes have never been higher, especially in the Amazon. We can help stop the destruction, but we must act boldly, and quickly. With your contribution, we've come a little closer to doing just that.

Thanks for taking a stand for the forests, their peoples, and the future of our beautiful planet.

With gratitude,

Suzanne Pelletier
